

DROVE MERCIER TO STATE OF MADNESS

M. Labori True to His Word.

MORE QUESTIONS FOR GENERAL AT TODAY'S SESSION.

For a Moment It Looked As If a Personal Encounter Would Take Place—Second Witness Was Col. Maurel, Who Said the Former Witness Probably Knew More About the Case Than He Did—President Jouaust Tries to Check a Repetition of Old Testimony, Whereupon the Prisoner's Attorney Refers to the Shot That Kept Him Absent.

Rennes, Aug. 24.—[Special]—True to his statement that he would have more questions to put to Gen. Mercier, M. Labori at today's session of the Dreyfus court-martial, got Mercier again on the stand and drove him to such a pass that for a moment it looked as though a personal encounter would take place between the two men.

One of the first witnesses was Col. Maurel, who was president of the '94 court-martial, who testified that he had seen only one of the documents of the secret dossier. He refused to say which one and said that Mercier probably knew more about the matter than he did.

Mercier Recalled to Stand. Mercier was then called to the stand. Labori began to question him concerning his part in bringing the secret evidence before the court-martial without the knowledge of the accused. "Did you order the secret dossier presented to the first court-martial?" asked Labori. "Yes," replied Mercier. "I take the entire responsibility." He said there was other evidence against the prisoner at the time of his arrest, beside the bordereau.

Labori asked why this evidence was concealed from the president, but Mercier hotly refused to reply.

Labori then questioned Mercier about the contents of the bordereau, Mercier insisting that Dreyfus was in a position to deliver the documents named.

The 35,000,000 Franc Syndicate. President Jouaust here tried to check the repetition of old testimony, whereupon Labori, referring dramatically to the shot which caused him to be absent a week, insisted upon full explanations and asked Mercier about the alleged thirty-five million franc syndicate to free Dreyfus, which the witness in his first testimony had spoken of.

Mercier said: "Defendant told me formally of the existence of the syndicate." Labori: "How formally?" Mercier protested against the lawyer's manner, saying he was not the accused. "What do you want of me?" demanded Labori, heatedly. "Yes, and what do you want of me?" retorted Mercier.

It was an exciting time and the audience jumped to its feet, expecting a personal encounter between Mercier and Labori.

Prisoner Arose to Emphasize a Point. The prisoner arose once during Mercier's testimony to emphasize the point that the secret evidence was produced against him at the former trial and explained that only the Bordereau was shown him at that occasion. Again when Gen. Risberg gave his ideas why Dreyfus was guilty, Dreyfus arose and cried: "The phrase is valueless, bring your proofs."

Maj. Cure, who was detailed by Picquart to investigate Esterhazy's character, testified that Esterhazy was always having things copied and further the testimony unfavorable to Esterhazy was given.

A few unimportant witnesses were examined and the court adjourned.

The proceedings of today were generally marked by a general paucity of new evidence.

Fear Fresh Assault on Labori

Rennes, Aug. 24.—[Special]—The police are apprehensive of a fresh assault on M. Labori, because of his aggressiveness in today's session of the court-martial. The guard about his house was increased this afternoon.

PANIZZARDI MAY BE A WITNESS.

Has Been Granted Permission to Appear at Rennes.

Paris, Aug. 24.—Official permission to appear at the Rennes court-martial, if cited, has been granted, according to advices from Rome, to Col. Panizzardi, former Italian military attaché in Paris. Panizzardi recently denied, in a communication to the Figaro, the statement of Gen. Roget in his evidence at Rennes that he (Panizzardi) addressed a report to Rensman, formerly Italian ambassador to France, to the effect that Col. Schwartzkoppen, former German military attaché in Paris, had relations with Dreyfus.

New Theory in Dreyfus Case.

Rennes, Aug. 24.—It is said that Dreyfus' prosecutors on the general staff intend to abandon the theory, which they have all persisted in until now, that the prisoner wrote the bordereau, and to take the ground that he and Esterhazy were accomplices, and that the latter, of course, was the author of the bordereau, as Esterhazy has confessed.

Esterhazy to Jouaust.

Paris, Aug. 24.—The Matin publishes a long letter written by ex-Major Esterhazy to Col. Jouaust, the president of the Dreyfus court-martial, in which the writer seeks to invalidate the evidence given before the court-martial by Grenier, Weil, and Bertullus, describing his relations or connections with Jews.

Notifies the New York Reception Committee That He Will Arrive September 28.

New York, Aug. 24.—[Special]—Admiral Dewey today notified the local reception committee that he would arrive here Sept. 28.

War Taxes Will Stand.

Washington, Aug. 24.—Secretary Gage does not believe the increase of the army by twenty regiments will force another bond issue or make it necessary to levy additional war taxes. A bond issue is not contemplated, but the increase of the army makes it certain the president will not recommend a reduction of the war taxes. Of course there will be an upward turn in the expense account now that the army is being steadily enlarged, but the present revenues are believed to be ample. Last year there was an increase of $102,000,000 in the internal revenue receipts, and if there is no falling off in the receipts there will be plenty of money to meet all expenses without resorting to a bond issue.

May Lockout Union Labor.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—A lockout of the 30,000 building trades workmen in the city may be the result of an agitation recently started among the city's contractors. The masons discussed in secret session yesterday ways and means of building factory at Cly City went on strike Building Trades' council, and finally referred the whole matter to a joint conference of the contractors of all branches to be held tomorrow. The proposition to lock out the union men found many friends, but the larger contractors who have jobs now in process of completion as a rule refused to say anything for or against the plan.

Kaiser's New Proposition.

London, Aug. 24.—The Johannesburg correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: "It is reported that a proposal is made for the abolition of British suzerainty as a condition of the concessions President Kruger is prepared to advance, but this is only regarded as an astute move on his part."

Where It Comes From.

People who wear false hair will be interested in the announcement of a strange discovery made at Antwerp. In that city a bale of human hair, weighing 172 pounds, was stolen from a railroad station. It was afterward learned that the hair had been clipped from the heads of lunatics and convicts in public asylums and prisons.

SECURE A JURY IN ISADORE COHEN CASE

COMPLETED LAST NIGHT AFTER TWO DAYS' TASK.

Case Opened On the Part of the State By District Attorney Jackson, Who Proceeded to Read the Information—Several Witnesses On the Stand Today.

After two days spent in the work of drawing a jury to try the case of the state against Isadore Cohen, the task was completed last evening in the municipal court and the following twelve men agreed upon: John T. Fitchett, P. A. McGuire, William H. Perigo, John W. Carpenter, Ezra Dillenbeck, Fred L. Wilbur, Wm. J. Bauman, Joseph Denning, George A. Chapman, Myron F. Greene and Martin Delaney.

Immediately after the jury had been selected and the oath had been administered by Clerk of the Court A. E. Tanberg, the case was opened on the part of the state by District Attorney W. A. Jackson, who proceeded to read the information charging the defendant with defrauding the Hamburg-Bremen Insurance company out of $200, the details of which have already been published in these columns.

The attorneys for the defense, Geo. G. Sutherland of this city, and W. B. Rubin of Milwaukee, waived the opening of the case which was adjourned until this morning at 9 o'clock, when the taking of the testimony commenced.

Among the witnesses who were sworn for the state and who testified were: Emil Giljohann, state insurance commissioner; Abe Jacobson, W. J. Jeffris, J. G. Rexford, H. B. Washington and Frank C. Haselton.

Mr. Washington is the insurance adjuster who came out here to adjust the loss at the time of the fire. He testified as to the condition of the building and stock and the conversation he had with Cohen at the time. Witness could not see how the blaze could have started accidentally as there was no electric wires in the building, nor was there any fire about the place at the time.

The case will be continued tomorrow.

NEARLY POISONED TO DEATH

Narrow Escape of the Two-Year Old Son of Mr. and Mrs. Sadler.

The two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sadler, No. 124 Glen street, had a narrow escape from being poisoned to death Tuesday evening, and though now thought to be out of danger, is still a very sick child.

The little fellow was left alone for a few moments, and in some manner got hold of a plate of fly poison which was placed in one of the windows, and drank a quantity of the stuff. Luckily he vomited most of it, otherwise he would have soon died in awful agony. Dr. Whiting was called to attend the little sufferer, and by hard work soon had him out of danger, though the effects will be felt for some time. This case should be a warning to all, against the common practice of leaving poisoned liquid where it can be reached by children.

May Dissolve the Diet.

Berlin, Aug. 24.—The results of Wednesday's crown council are unknown. Racine, Wis., Aug. 24.—Yesterday an inquest was held in the cases of Miss Mabel Schumacher and Eugene Sprague, killed by a street car, Monday. "The jury gave the following verdict: We find that Eugene Sprague and Mabel Schumacher came to their death by being struck and crushed by car No. 16 of the Milwaukee Electric Light & Power company, in charge of W. H. Barry, employed as motorman, and we exonerate him from blame."

The funeral of Miss Schumacher was held today. The body of Sprague was forwarded to Michigan.

Trip to Dawson and Back.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Aug. 24.—Judge W. R. Hoyt of this city, received a letter yesterday from his son, Romeo Hoyt, of Skaguay, in which he says that the telegraph line to Dawson is just about completed and ready for business. The toll rates are placed at $2.75 for ten words. He says a party left Skaguay recently for Dawson going by rail to Dawson and made the round trip in exactly nine days. The fare from Dawson to Seattle has been reduced to $100. There are five large steamboats plying between Bennett and Dawson. Mr. Hoyt says that Skaguay has begun to boom again; they are putting in a new electric lighting plant and fire alarm system. In speaking of the prevailing idea of the dangers of an Alaskan trip into the interior, he says that a ten year old child can now make the trip with perfect ease and safety and without escort.

Prisoner Breaks Jail.

Dodgeville, Wis., Aug. 24.—George Strong, in jail here awaiting trial for shooting Marshal Leach of Avoca, escaped last night when the woman who cooks for the prisoners went in to give him supper. He went west and is being hunted with bloodhounds. A reward of $25 is offered. He is 26 years old, 5 feet 7 inches in height, and smooth faced with scars over his left eye and on his head. The prisoner was tracked for about three miles where the trail stopped at the foot of a stump where he had evidently mounted a horse which he had stolen from a farmer's pasture. No trace has since been found.

The company did a retail business, and was located on King street. A factory where the Badger wheel was built was also maintained by the company at Oregon.

FORECAST OF WEATHER

Chicago, Aug. 24.—[Special]—Forecast for Wisconsin:

Fair and cooler tonight and Friday.

BOERS DEMAND CONCESSIONS.

Propose That Great Britain Give Up Her Suzerain Rights.

London, Aug. 24.—London is still waiting for the publication of President Kruger's dispatch, the full text of which is now before the cabinet. The Reuter dispatches this morning persist again in forecasting the reply of the Transvaal government, which it declares, refuses absolutely to consent to the proposals for a joint committee, but offers instead a five years' franchise law, a vote for president, and eight new seats in the volksraad for the Rand.

New conditions, however, are exacted. Kruger demands that Great Britain give up for all time her suzerainty rights over the Transvaal. The other questions are to be submitted to arbitration, but not to a foreign power. Great Britain, also, must agree not to use the present interference as a precedent.

It is hardly credible that the Boer government should have had the effrontery to propose doing away with the British suzerainty, yet, in view of former proposals by Dr. Leyds and Reitz, published in the blue book, the demand is barely possible.

It is absolutely certain that Great Britain cannot accept the loss of suzerainty over the Transvaal, Mr. Chamberlain's final decision on that point being most definite.

Brave Risk by a Fireboat.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 24.—Capt. Giddings and crew of the fireboat Janssen Wednesday afternoon ran the boat into a fire which swept over the river. They were surrounded by flames, but fought bravely on and saved much valuable property. The fire was in the yards of the B. ## OTIS CONFIRMS THE DISPATCHES

Agreement Made With Sultan of Sulus.

CABLEGRAM RECEIVED AT THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

Filipinos Are Said to Distrust the American Commander and Have More Confidence In Admiral Dewey—He Is Thought to Be the Only Man Who Can Effect a Peaceful Settlement of Existing Difficulties—Rebels Confident of Maintaining a Successful Resistance—Transport Newton Arrives At Manila With Two Companies of Nineteenth Infantry.

Hongkong, Aug. 24.—A prominent Filipino here asserts that Aguinaldo will never negotiate with Gen. Otis for peace.

The Filipinos assert that the American military leaders precipitated the hostilities in February, when an amicable arrangement was possible. Therefore they distrust Otis.

They also desire an explicit declaration from the congress at Washington.

The Filipinos express profound trust in Admiral Dewey. They apparently believe him to be the only man who can achieve a peaceful settlement.

They appear confident of being able to maintain a sufficient stock of war munitions successfully to resist the American forces.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 24.—A letter from Manila dated July 16 says: "Gen. Frederick Funston has been temporarily relieved from duty at San Fernando, and will go to the Second reserve hospital to receive treatment necessitated by the reopening of a wound received while in the Cuban army. Otis Excludes the Chinese.

Washington, Aug. 24.—The state department has been informed through a diplomatic channel that Gen. Otis has applied the Chinese exclusion laws to the Philippines. What step the Chinese authorities will take has not been determined, as Minister Wu Ting Fang is out of the city for a few days. There is little doubt, however, that he will seek to have Gen. Otis' order held in abeyance until the authorities here pass upon the general question, which has been under consideration between the two governments.

Premier Silvela Ill.

Training Berry Bushes.

The German fashion of growing gooseberries on standard bushes—that is to say, snipping off all but one stem and allowing the plant to bush out at a convenient height for picking, like standard roses—gives a great effect of neatness. The same effect is to be seen in the Scotch way of growing raspberry bushes, by training two adjacent bushes into an intermingling arch.

PAID TRIBUTE TO FRANCES WILLARD

BY MRS. W. B. WHESTONE OF THIS CITY.

Interesting Paper Read at the Picnic Yesterday at Forest Home, the Old Residence of the Famous Temperance Leader—W. C. T. U. Ladies Gather There.

Mrs. W. B. Whetstone in a paper read at Forest Home yesterday, the old residence of Frances Willard, paid the following tribute to the late leader of the W. C. T. U. forces of the world:

Courage is adversity's lamp and our duty was created with us. We have been taught that we must bear up with patience, and that the bird that flutters least is longest on the wing. So as we gather here today in honor and reverence to our beloved leader and in this place made sacred to us all because it was once bright with her presence we stand today a united band trying in our weak but willing way to carry out and perpetuate the cause which she so nobly espoused. This velvet lawn once gave impress of her footsteps, the branching trees once smiled a welcome to her, who has by her own unselfish efforts endeared herself to so many hearts and homes throughout the land, and those that have felt her beloved influence bow today in recognition of love and gratefulness to her who was devoted to her fellow beings that she gave her life to the cause of morality and virtue that all might be benefited. And underneath these trees of her old home and upon this green the joyous march of her youth went on. Here her happy childhood was spent, here the glad days whirled round like wheels, and a beautiful womanhood was ushered in, but we have the knowledge that she ever did her duty. And at this home altar she often came when perplexed like a fluttering weary fledgling to rest a weary, troubled heart. She has given us good examples and reverent deportment, and the character that attained such angelic proportions should surely have a reverent place in all our memories. Hope was the greater part of her riches, and she cultivated it as one of the loveliest flowers of life. Hope cradled her in childhood; therefore God inspired her, and in the morning of her life she sowed her seed, and crowned herself with rosebuds before they withered. The history of her whole life is one of affection for the human heart was her mould. She trimmed and weathed the roses of heaven into the lives of men and at the same time concealed in the modest veil of her true womanly grace the delicate feeling with holy hands. Her commands were like carresses, her errors (if any) always sprung from her faith in the good or her confidence in the true. And the strong fortifications which she has thrown up against temptation must be supported and guarded by us. And as we gather here in this place made sacred by sweet memories of her of whom I speak, let us strive to keep the great obligation imposed upon us, and handle our forces to the best advantage in the cause for which we stand and let us pray for the day when the drop too much will be as nefarious as the cut with the razor or a blaze too much with the torch.

The following circular has been issued by the state game warden, relative to the shipment of game:

A resident of the state can ship to points within or without the state any of the birds, fowls or animals on the same train or other conveyance to the point of shipment, if within the state, and to the borders of the state if point of shipment is without the state. All packages containing game must be labeled so as to disclose the nature of contents and name of owner. It is unlawful to buy, sell or transport deer except from Nov. 6 to Nov. 25 inclusive. ## GUESTS OF BELOIT BROTHERS

Local Maccabees Paid a Fraternal Visit Last Night

A delegation consisting of nineteen members of Rock River Tent No. 51, Knights of the Maccabees, drove to Beloit in a carryall last evening and paid a fraternal visit to the members of Beloit Tent No. 20. The Line City tent held a special meeting for the purpose of initiating a class of twenty into the mysteries of that order and invitation was extended to the local Sir Knights to be present. The carryall left the Myers House corner at 7:30 o'clock, reaching the college town at 9:30.

The initiation was completed about 11 o'clock, after which short talks were made by Deputy Supreme Commander Griggs, Sir Knight Commander F. A. Williams and Sir Knight E. C. Palmer of this city, which lasted until the cook politely ran a butcher knife through the wicket, which was a gentle hint to "cut it short." Dr. Palmer being the last speaker, was the victim of the joke and took the hint. The visiting Sir Knights were then ushered into the dining hall, where ice cream and cake were relished.

The rain delayed the home coming and the start was not made until a little after 1 o'clock. Owing to the condition of the roads and inclination of the driver, it was 4 o'clock when the party returned. The 3 hours were occupied in listening to stories, C. E. Belden seemingly having an endless string and did his full share of talking.

Following are the names of the visiting delegation:

MAJOR J. B. POND'S SKETCH OF DOUGLAS

SATURDAY EVENING POST SPEAKS OF COLORED ORATOR.

Mention Made of An Episode That Will Awaken Memories in the Minds of the Old Janesville Residents—Story Is True in Part, Says a Pioneer Citizen.

The Saturday Evening Post of Philadelphia, in its latest issue, publishes an article written by Major J. B. Pond on Frederick Douglass, entitled, "The Ablest Man of the Black Race."

In the course of the story on the life of the great black man, mention is made of an episode which will awaken memories in the minds of old residents of Janesville. The part of the article which is of local interest is as follows: "After hearing Douglass and Anna Dickinson speak at the first Southern Loyalist convention at Philadelphia, John Minor Botts, the famous Virginian political leader, said:

"Today I have heard the greatest white woman and the greatest colored orator in America. I tell you, sir, if Douglass had been a white man he would have been regarded as one of the greatest men in America."

"Well, sir," was the reply of his northern listener, "we regard him as one of the greatest men in our country, even though he is a colored man."

In Janesville, Wis., the landlord of the hotel would not allow him in the dining room. The people got out a hose cart and engine and were going to wash out the place. Mr. Douglass came out on the porch and said:

"Go back. Don't blame the man. He is not to blame." He made a plea there that put us all to shame.

The story is true in part, but the portion about the hose cart is not touched for by one of Janesville's old inhabitants who was interviewed by a Gazette reporter today. This gentleman says that he remembers the incident well.

"It was in the fall of 1863," said our informant, "and I was on the committee that secured Douglass to lecture. Hasleton & Hutson were running the old American House, where the Court Street Methodist church now stands. They refused to let Douglass occupy a seat at the table and Wm. M. Tallman took the orator to his own home on Jackson street. He remained Mr. Tallman's guest while in the city."

"I am inclined to think that the part about the hose-cart is an addition to the story. Charley Moseley, who was also on the committee that arranged to have Douglass lecture, and myself had a little amusement at the time, at the orator's expense. When Douglass was asked what we owed him for his services he replied laughingly that any large bill would do. The next day Mr. Moseley and I presented him with an immense (bill) poster, which we had had printed to advertise his lecture. He appreciated the joke, but of course received a little remuneration in addition to the 'large bill.'"

THOS. F. KELLY HOME BURNED

Residence Almost Totally Destroyed by Fire Last Night.

The home of Thomas F. Kelly on Eastern avenue was almost entirely consumed by fire about 10 o'clock last night.

Mr. Kelly's house is just a few doors from the street railway power house. William Murphy, who is employed nights at the power house, noticed a little after 9 o'clock that the chimney of Mr. Kelly's house was afire. He notified Mrs. Kelly, who at the time, was in the dwelling with her children. Mr. Murphy then ran to the fire box at the corner of James Place and McKey boulevard and turned in the alarm. The fire department responded as quickly as possible, but the building being of light frame construction and a considerable distance from the fire plug, it was practically ruined by the flames.

Before the fire had seriously damaged the house, Mr. Kelly who is employed by the street railway company as a motorman, reached the scene and with the assistance of comrades succeeded in removing the greater part of the furniture and other articles of value.

A large number of people were attracted to the fire which is the first one that has occurred for several weeks.

Mr. Kelly says that the house was insured with the H. H. Blanchard agency to the extent of $400.

build the house around the bath room.

SO SOME PEOPLE say. The modern idea in building is to have the bath room and plumbing convenient and nice, if you are obliged to cut off on something else.

That Double System of Plumbing....

we are putting in many houses, is a convenience well worth looking into. It can be placed in any house. With it you have soft water for the bath and lavatory purposes and with the turning of a valve you can run city water through the pipes. A motor elevates the soft water automatically. We would be pleased to explain it more fully to you.

OUR DAILY STORY

Somewhat back from the well-travelled turnpike stood a low, red farmhouse, overshadowed by giant poplars. On either side of the well-beaten path were beds of mignonette, bachelors' buttons, ladies' delight and nodding nasturtiums. A thriving bush of southernwood that had long outlived the hand that placed it there flourished by the broad stone step and a tall cinnamon rose that has clambered its way above the level of the half-open window nodded and swayed to and fro as if impatient with the cords that held it, and as though it could no longer control its curiosity had thrust several fragrant blossoms into the room within where a kindly faced woman was busily arranging the few articles of furniture. As she moved about in her energetic fashion she hummed in a sweet yet tremulous voice the strains of an old-fashioned hymn.

Martha Kidder, or "Marthy," as she was familiarly called by the neighbors, was a woman of perhaps 50 years of age, long since past her first youth, but the possessor of one of those faces from which the youthful expression is never eliminated. She was of medium height and rather spare in form; her still abundant hair was drawn smoothly away from the placid brow and fastened in a neat coil at the back of the head. The lilac-sprigged gown of soft delaine, with its linen collar, was secured at the throat with a quaint, oval-shaped brooch, in which was a braided lock of faded hair.

As she moved about in her quick, nervous fashion she gradually drew near the window, and, attracted by the nodding rose, whose fragrance filled the room, she leaned her tired arm upon its narrow ledge and gazed lovingly on the little garden below.

Martha Kidder was an ardent worshiper of nature, and this June afternoon, standing by the open window, she drank in the beauty of the landscape spread before her till the loneliness of her solitary life faded away, even as the misty clouds of vapor were rising from the bosom of the distant Contoocook. A golden robin perched on the catalpa tree broke into an ecstasy of song and a straggling sunbeam glistened in, shining across the room with unwonted brightness. Turning reluctantly from the scene, Martha resumed her work, and through the open window came stealing the soothing strains of "Cool Siloam's Shady Hill."

Gradually the long June day drew to a close, the western sky was stained with splashes of gold and crimson and the sinking sun slowly disappeared behind the distant hills, gliding the farmhouse windows till they glittered like burnished gold; the frogs began to peep and the katydids took up their incessant strain, and silently the twilight crept over the New Hampshire hills.

Taking her sunbonnet from its nail by the kitchen dresser, Martha made ready to carry the night milk to the city family at the boarding-house, a mile distant from the Kidder farm. Securely fastening the wide front door, she tripped down the narrow path, pausing to pick a spray of mignonette, which she fastened in the folds of her kerchief. As she walked along the country road, overshadowed by the great beech trees, she still hummed the same old song. Passing the little grass-grown burial ground, she paused by its low stone wall, her eyes resting

"MARTHA, DON'T YOU KNOW ME?" lovingly upon a group of stones somewhat apart from the others, the nearest bearing the name of Hannah Kidder, aged 16, painted in rude black letters on the tall, moss-covered stone, and now nearly obliterated by the storms of forty years. A mist came over the woman's eyes and she pressed her wrinkled hand to her throat, where it gently rested on the brooch containing Hannah's hair. Resuming her walk, she soon reached the boarding-house and quietly started homeward.

As the good-natured host drove up with the evening mail he shouted to his wife: "Ann Maria, Abel King's come home, after twenty years, and we all thought him dead. Rich as Croesus, so folks say. Guess Marthy wishes she'd treated him kinder when he asked her to marry him 'fore he left."

The moonlight flickered through the branches of the trees, casting fitful shadows along the dusty turnpike; the brakes and sweet fern nodded by the roadside; the white birches stood out in bold relief against a background of spruces and hemlock, and a deep silence, broken only by the wind in the pines brooded over all.

Martha did not hasten on the way, but often paused to enjoy the beauty of the night. An overhanging branch of moose bush loaded with creamy blossoms brushed against her cheek, and she paused to gather its heavily scented flowers. Suddenly the silence was broken by the sound of footsteps. A man was rapidly approaching, and in the moonlight the form seemed strangely familiar. Suddenly he stopped; then, stepping to the woman's side exclaimed: "Martha, don't you know me?" In a voice trembling with emotion, she cried: "Abel, is it you? They told me you were dead."

The moon shone out from behind a fleecy cloud and its beams flooded the wooded slopes of old Monadnock till the placid river at its base shone like burnished silver, but its softest beams fell on the bent forms of a man and woman, who never more would walk life's road apart.

Wise and Davis.

Mr. Davis asked me to remain. He said that he wished to talk with me further, says John S. Wise in the Atlantic. While waiting for him in the hallway, Major Sutherland, who had known me from childhood, beckoned to me and asked, "Aren't you hungry after your ride?"

I grinned. I was always hungry then.

"Jim," said the major, "see if you can't get something for the lieutenant to eat." Jim went out, and in a few minutes returned bowing, and invited me into the butler's pantry. He apologized for the place, and explained that the house was so crowded he had nowhere to spread the repast. He had milk, and corn coffee, and butter and rolls, and cold turkey. I said: "Jim, shut up. You know I am not used to as good as this." With that I tossed off a glass of milk, swallowed a cup of coffee, and, opening my haversack, tumbled the butter and rolls and turkey legs into it and buttoned it up. Jim stood there, highly amused at the short shrift I made of his feast, and remarked, "You're a first-class forager, ain't you, lieutenant?" "Yes," I said.

"You must keep fire in the box, Jim, if you want the engine to run. Now I'm ready for the president."

I slipped back into the hallway and sat down to wait until the president should call me. In a little while his conference broke up, and he came to the door. "Now, lieutenant, I'll see you," and he led the way into the drawing room, and there we had a long talk, I going more into details. At the close of our conversation he sat for some time peering into the gloom outside, and finally broke the silence by saying:

"You seem to know the roads. Do you feel equal to another trip?"

"Assuredly," said I. "I now have a relay of horses, and am more than glad to serve in any way I can."

"Very well," said he. "Leave your horse in Major Sutherland's stable, to assure his being well fed, and report for orders tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock." I took the mare to the stable. It looked so inviting that I clambered up a ladder to the loft, opened my haversack, enjoyed Major Sutherland's food, placed some hay under me, and drew some hay over me, and had a glorious night's rest. When I reported next morning the president did not ask at what hotel I was stopping. I received my return dispatches, and I started back to Gen. Lee. Upon the same day that Gen. Lee surrendered at Appomattox I reached Halifax Court House on the return trip.

Some Mythology.

Detroit Journal: When the maiden in the old Teutonic myth saw the dragon approach, she was much terrified. "Are you going to devour me?" she shrieked, clasping her hands agonizedly. "No, Maude," replied the dragon, sarcastically, "I'm simply going to take your chewing gum away from you!" Whence we see that even a dragon eventually becomes tired of being asked foolish questions.

GET THEIR TIPS FROM CROOKS

Bank Officials Take Means to Protect Their Treasure from Thieves.

It is said by a police official at city hall headquarters that some of the city banks, whose hoard of surplus cash has been increasing largely of late, have been experimenting with an expedient long in use by the Bank of England officials of paying known crooks for information of any contemplated raid upon their vaults. The Bank of England's first experiment of this kind dates from 1850, when the directors of the bank listened to a startling proposition made by a "ditch digger." The laborer told the directors that he had discovered a new and unsuspected method of getting into the cellar vaults, where the gold and silver bars were kept, and that he would sell his secret to them for money. The directors hesitated, believing that they had taken every precaution against loss from the vaults in putting up heavy masonry, with plenty of iron bars, and by manning the building with armed watchmen. But finally they granted the man, who seemed to talk fairly, a chance to try his plan, and a night was named for the undertaking. At the appointed time a committee of the directors descended to the cellar and heard a peculiar scratching sound under their feet. Two hours later the floor opened and the ditch digger bobbed up serenely, like the evil spirits in the spectacular drama. All around them lay bars of precious metal, totaling in value $3,000,000. The man explained satisfactorily how it was done and as a reward the directors assured him an income from life on an investment of $10,000. The crook was content and it is believed he remained honest ever afterward. But other cracksmen were tempted by his luck to try the same game and the directors were inundated with suggestions and tips on new methods of burglary and how to prevent them. Among other things, they paid $20,000 for a process, invented by a young chemist, for copying the ink, paper, watermarks and designs of the bank notes so perfectly as to defy detection. The directors found they could use his system more satisfactorily and more profitably than their own in the production of their currency. Despite the fact that these expenditures have run up into big figures in the last half century the directors of today say that all the money was well invested.

A Deceitful Thing.

Mrs. Packinham—What a deceitful thing Mrs. Inglesworth is!

Mr. Packinham—Why? Has she been saying things behind your back?

Mrs. Packinham—I don't know that she has done anything of that kind, but she looked me right in the face when I called on her this morning and said she was glad to see me. She was all ready to go downtown, and of course I knew better.

Mr. Packinham—That was rather barefaced. I suppose you set her a good example then by telling her you had just called for the sake of appearances, as you told me last night you would have to?

Mrs. Packinham—John, you're so coarse, sometimes! It is easy to guess that you never had the advantage of proper bringing up!

FAMOUS OLD CLOCK.

That for 510 Years Has Regulated the City of Rouen.

Rouen, one of the principal cities of France, and the great seat of its cotton manufacture, possesses the oldest public clock in the world. The great Rouen clock has held its place in that city for 510 years and is the pride of its citizens. Placed in 1389, it has been running without interruption from that day to this, requiring nothing except cleaning and a few trifling repairs of its accessory parts. The great clock had so accustomed the citizens of Rouen to look upon its exactitude as a matter of course, that when, in 1572, the breaking of a wire prevented its sounding 5 o'clock one morning, the population was in a state of consternation. The magistrates summoned the custodian—Guillaume Petit—and remonstrated gravely with him. Until 1712 the great clock had no pendulum. For 323 years it had no other regulator than a "foliot," an apparatus unknown to the majority of modern clockmakers. The pendulum in clockwork was introduced in 1659, but so well satisfied were the people of Rouen with the time-keeping qualities of their famous old clock that 53 years were allowed to pass before a pendulum was substituted for the "foliot." Equipped with this new apparatus it has continued to this day to strike the hours and chime the quarters.

Does Coffee Agree With You?

If not, drink Grain-O—made from pure grains. A lady writes: "The first time I made Grain-O I did not like it but after using it for one week nothing would induce me to go back to coffee." Get a package today from your grocer, follow directions in making it and you will have a delicious and healthful table beverage for old and young. 35c and 25c.

CHEAP THINGS IN MANILA.

Rosewood and Mahogany Much Used—Low Prices for Duck Suits.

Paymaster Eugene Coffin, writing from Manila, Philippine Islands, to a friend in Washington, says: "I am living at the Hotel del Orient. The floors of the hotel are of hardwood, and all sawed out by hand. These people have never seen a sawmill. The staircases of the first three floors of the hotel are of rosewood. They use solid mahogany here for the cheapest things. I took out my rule the other day and measured some of the boards in the floor, and, to my surprise, they were 22 feet long and 30 1/2 inches wide. You can hardly realize how wide 30 1/2 inches is. Take a tape measure and mark it off, and you will understand how amazed I was. There's a fortune here for the man who will come in and start a saw and planing mill. They saw all their lumber here by hand, a 'chino' at each end of the saw. These boards have been in use for twenty years, and not a crack or a crack in them. I had nine duck suits made to order for me here, and paid $25.50 in gold for the entire lot. I pay eight cents a suit for washing it. They never saw a washboard here. They wet and soap the clothes and then thrash them on the stones, swinging them over their heads as you would a flail. There is not a cook stove in Manila save those brought here by our boys. But they have plenty of sewing machines. There is not a flatiron on the whole island. When our boys first got here they got 54 Mexican dollars for a United States twenty-dollar piece, but the rate of exchange has fallen now until it is only two for one. We are paying off the boys in paper money now, and the natives take our currency very kindly. They have never seen so much money in all their lives as our boys are spending now."

Captured a Strangling Bug.

One of the so-called strangling bugs was captured in the county jail yard at Media, Pa., by Jail Warden Thomas S. Fields. Mr. Fields did not know of the bloodthirsty and dangerous character of his captive, but, judging by the looks of the insect that it was dangerous, handled it carefully. He succeeded in brushing it into a glass jar, and a few minutes afterward dropped a live mouse into the jar to watch the result. The bug in a minute made a sudden dash upon the neck of the mouse, and stung or bit it in such a way as to cause it to keel over dead, the bug hanging on to it and sucking its blood. Mr. Fields, horrified at having such an insect in his possession, and without knowing that it was one of the aliens from Africa, closed the jar tightly and smothered it to death. It is of a dark brown color, about two and a half inches long, has a strong pair of wings, and is armed with a sharp-pointed "sucker" or sword, and two crab-like claws.

"Certainly, Mr. Higginside," she replied, taking a pasteboard box from the mantel and holding it out to him. "Pick it out from this collection of engagement rings, if you can tell which is yours. Take another one or two, Mr. Higginside, for interest."—Chicago Tribune.

PEOPLE WE KNOW.

They Are Janesville People and What They Say Is Of Local Interest.

When an incident like the following occurs right here at home it is bound to carry weight with our readers. So many strange occurrences go the rounds of the press, are published as facts, when the intelligent reader knows that cannot be true, there is no wonder that people become skeptical. On one subject skepticism is rapidly disappearing. This is due to the actual personal experience of our citizens and their public utterances regarding them. The doubter must doubt no more in the face of such evidence as this. The public statement of a reputable citizen living right here at home, one whom you can see any day; leaves no ground for the skeptic to stand on.

Mrs. S. L. Ben of 64 S. River St., says: "During the last two or three years I suffered most of the time with a terrible dragging down pain in my back just over the kidneys. It was very trying when I was at work, and if I did any lifting my bladder became affected, causing me considerable annoyance. I also had attacks of headaches, which seemed like congestion in the top and back of my head. When I read about Doan's Kidney Pills I did not have any too much confidence in them, but my daughter got a box at the Janesville Co's. drug store and persuaded me to use them. I am very glad I did so for they took right hold and in a wonderful change in my condition I hardly realized how bad I was until Doan's Kidney Pills brought me relief from the afflictions. I have recommended this remedy on several occasions, and will do all that I can to let others know of its merits."

Results are Showing

That Cushionet Turns do not rip, and that they will also outwear any other Shoes for walking on hard pavements.

The Reasons

For their not ripping are in our improved methods (patents applied for) of channeling the sole and the way of sewing and protection of the stitch.

They Wear Longer

Because the very heavy soles of the finest leather will not wear through quickly to the channel as in ordinary turn Shoes, and being flexible they do not grind out as welt Shoes are liable to do.

The Uppers Are Protected

And these Shoes hold their shape better on account of the heavy square close or extension edge soles.

They are made over the latest style lasts. We carry them in all sizes and widths, button and lace. We have secured exclusive sale for Janesville. There are no other Shoes like Cushionet Turns and Ease Welts for comfort giving and wearing qualities. Ask to see them.

AGITATING HOLDING TROTTER MEETINGS

SUBSCRIPTION PAPER IS NOW BEING CIRCULATED.

Members of the Janesville Driving Park Association Are Quite Active—Talk of Having Some Good Old Races During Last Week in September—Meet With Success.

The members of the Janesville Driving Park Association are circulating a subscription paper with a view to giving one of their good old trotting meetings here during the last week in September.

They have met with fair success so far, but whether the races are held or not entirely depends on the way that the local merchants take hold of the scheme.

That it would be a good thing for the city there can be no doubt, as a meeting has not been held here in several years, and if one was given it would be sure to draw great numbers of people from the surrounding towns. The farmers too, would then be through with the greater part of their fall work and would attend largely.

There is no getting around the fact that horse racing in this section draws better than any other kind of attraction and the visiting horsemen always have the reputation of leaving considerable money in the town.

It is to be hoped that the committee will be able to secure a sufficient sum to justify giving a meeting with good purses, so as to attract a good class of horses. The state fair is to be held in Milwaukee September 11 to 15, and the Walworth county fair the week following.

The best of the horses will race at the two meetings, and if the purses hung up in this city are large enough, they would be brought here the week following the fair at Elkhorn, and the local date would be the last on the circuit.

Janesville has always been considered by the horsemen to be one of the best cities for horse racing in the state, and as there has been no meeting here for the past two years, there is no doubt but that it would be a big success.

The track at Bostwick Park, formerly known as the "Fair grounds," is regarded as one of the best in the west and with but very little work could be put in record breaking condition.

The members of the association are working hard to get up the meeting here and they should receive the encouragement and support of every citizen.

HOGS STRANGELY AFFECTED

North Johnstown Farmers Losing Many Porks

A very peculiar malady seems to be affecting the pork producing animals in North Johnstown and vicinity. W. R. Cunningham is losing his hogs rapidly.

Seventy two of his drove are sick and six of them have already ceased to grunt. Mr. Cunningham of course classifies this disease as cholera, although it seems to have some unusual characteristics. It affects principally the younger generation of pigs. The animal when taken with the pest staggers as if blind, and after death the nose or snout turns a peculiar shade of blue.

The hog cholera in this section of the country was terrific, some of the farmers losing their entire droves, but Mr. Cunningham says that his animals have not been affected by the malady since the early part of the eighties.

Dexter Gray, a neighbor of Mr. Cunningham's, has also lost a number of his swine, especially the small pigs, and it is feared by the farmers about North Johnstown that the disease will take on serious dimensions.

LOCAL HORSEMAN IN THE EAST

John Kelly At the Readville, Mass., Trotting Meeting.

The trotting meeting now being held at Readville, Mass., is of local interest, as John Kelly, the celebrated horseman of this city, has a string of horses entered and is meeting with good success.

In the Massachusetts 2-13 class trot yesterday, for a purse of $10,000, Charles Kerr, one of the horses driven by Kelly made the best showing of any horse in the race, finishing either first or second in each of the six heats. There were fifteen of the best horses in the country that started and the race remained undecided, as three of the horses, including Kelly's had each won two heats. The deciding heat was to be run off today and the outcome will be watched with considerable interest by the many friends of the popular horseman in this city.

GOOD FARCE COMEDY COMING

"Mr. Plaster of Paris" at Myers Grand Saturday Evening

A farce comedy is good or bad. It delights or bores. If it is good, the box office will indicate it. If it is bad, the box office is also the indicator. "Mr. Plaster of Paris," one of the latest successes in farce, had net earnings that established the record in the French play houses in the provinces and in Paris last year. It was translated and adopted to the American stage and will be first presented in the west this season. It is booked for appearance here Saturday, Aug. 26, at the Myers Grand.

MAYOR RICHARDSON CALLS A MEETING

CITIZENS MEET AT COUNCIL CHAMBER TONIGHT.

Gather For the Purpose of Arranging For Holding a Good Road Convention—May Possibly Be Held the First Part of October—All Should Attend.

Mayor Victor P. Richardson has called a meeting of the citizens tonight at the council chamber at 8 o'clock.

The object of this meeting is to decide whether or not Janesville shall be one of the cities for a good roads convention.

The time for the assembly of this convention if the citizens of Janesville shall decide to have it, will be the first part of October. At the meeting at the council chamber tonight it is thought that an organization will be perfected to make arrangements for a good roads convention.

Mayor Richardson said today that the necessary amount of money that would have to be raised to insure the convention in Janesville and provide for the work that the visitors would do, would be five hundred dollars.

At the meeting of these good road committees the government loans the services of two of its most prominent road officials—General Roy Stone and General Harrison.

Under the supervision of those two experts, a portion of the street or road about ten or twenty feet in length is cut up, worked over with new material and made into a model piece of highway.

General Roy Stone has charge of the good road committee in Porto Rico and it is said that the process of his trial work is very interesting.

Mayor Richardson stated that if arrangements were made to receive the good road committee in Janesville this fall, he believed that about 4,000 people would come to the city to watch the construction of the model street or road.

A large part of the five hundred dollars raised, he said, would be spent for advertising. The mayor has also received letters from Rella C. Harber, secretary of the State and Inter-State Good Roads and Improvement association on the subject of the good road committee. He desires that all the citizens who can attend the meeting tonight do so.

IMPROVEMENTS BEING MADE

Many Noticeable Changes Being Made in Congregational Church

Numerous improvements are being carried on at the Congregational church. The re-shingling of the rear end of the roof, which is being done by the Jeffris Company, will probably be finished the last of this week.

The other portion of the building was given a new roof a little over a year ago.

The interior decorations of the main auditorium which have just been completed, were done by Marshall Field company of Chicago. The walls were retinted and everything has been made clean and bright for the opening service in September.

The Sunday school room is also undergoing a change. The walls are being painted a greyish blue and other improvements in the retinting line are being made by the Kent Paint company of this city.

OSHKOSH and Janesville will play two ball games at Athletic park, Monday and Tuesday, August 28 and 29, to decide the championship. Every citizen should plan to attend or send a substitute.

CUTE SAYINGS BY CHILDREN.

"Why are you always drumming on the table, Tommy?" asked a mother of her 5-year-old son. "I guess it's because I'm like a turkey," answered the young hopeful. "In what way do you resemble a turkey?" she asked. "Why a turkey has drumsticks but no drum," was the reply.

Clara, aged 5, was playing with her dollies. "Now you lay here," she said to one, and to another, "you lay over there." "Why, Clara," said her mother, "you know that isn't right; you should say lie." "That's where you're wrong, mamma," replied Clara. "I'm playing they are chickens."

ROOT BACK IN WASHINGTON.

Refuses to Discuss the Results of His Conference with McKinley.

Washington, Aug. 24.—Secretary Root returned to Washington last night from his visit to the president, but was not in a communicative state of mind. He would not discuss the plans for the Philippines, nor affirm or deny the stories that Gen. Miles or Gen. Merritt would be sent to the island to command the fighting forces. It is learned from other sources that the new secretary of war carried north with him a plan for a civil government for Porto Rico. This he submitted to the president. The plan he proposes, it is understood, practically absorbs Porto Rico into the union.

That the campaign in the Philippines is to be pushed vigorously and promptly is evident from a remark the secretary made. He was determined, he said, that every man belonging to the twenty regiments of volunteers now being recruited should eat his Christmas dinner in that country. This statement was brought out by a reference to the published report that ten of these regiments were to be held in the United States as a reserve force.

FORM TWO BIG COAL TRUSTS.

Joint Capital Is $104,000,000—Gigantic Interests Involved.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 24.—Two consolidations of coal-mining interests have been completed here within the last fortnight which will affect the consumers of bituminous coal throughout the Mississippi and Ohio valleys and the great lakes region. One is the Monongahela River Coal and Coke company, and will, by Oct. 1, have complete control of all the available coal lands operated and unopened between the first pool at Pittsburg and Morgantown, W. Va., on the same stream, the present head of slack-water navigation.

The second is the Pittsburg Coal company. It includes what are styled railroad coal companies, owning 102 concerns and all their various interests, including coal docks at various points in the great lakes, five coal railroads in the mining regions and over 89,000 acres of coal lands, most of it in fee simple.

The total capitalization of the two concerns will be $104,000,000, of which the railroad combination has $64,000,000 and the river coal $40,000,000.

Big Four Strike Prevented.
Cincinnati, Ohio, Aug. 24.—The existing trouble between the Big Four engineers and the road is settled for at least some time to come. Chief P. M. Arthur of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers said that he and the grievance committee of the Big Four engineers had reached a compromise agreement with General Manager Schaff of the road and that the agreement would hold good for some time. He stated that any danger of a strike was disposed of and the men would continue with their work as before.

HELP PRESIDENT KRUGER. VICTOR IS LIKE A PHOENIX.

His Sympathizers in British Territory Are Warned.

Pietermaritzburg, Natal, South Africa, Aug. 23.—In connection with the rumor that there are many Boers who are British subjects and who outwardly sympathize with the British, while in reality they are secret agents of President Kruger of the Transvaal republic, the premier of Natal declared last evening that it was the intention of the government to take steps to detect and punish any British subjects co-operating with the enemies of the queen.

It is alleged that much secret information has been conveyed to President Kruger and that even ambuscades have been prepared for the British troops in the event of war, by these secret agents.

A force of police has been ordered to Colenso, owing to rumors of the intention of the Boers to destroy the railroad bridge at that place.

Porto Rico Maps at Fault.

Washington, Aug. 24.—The recent official surveys along the southern coast of Porto Rico show that the coast line is much more in error than has been supposed by scientists. Information now at hand discloses the fact that from Ponce to the eastward, charted as fifty miles, the actual distance is but forty-three miles, necessitating a contraction of the shore line on maps and charts to the extent of seven miles for that stretch alone. If that proportion of error is found to hold good for the whole island its actual area will be very greatly circumscribed by the results of the surveys.

Expect End of the World.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 24.—Reports from southern Russia say that a current belief of the approaching end of the world is causing a panic among the uneducated classes. At Kharkov, the capital of the government of that name, workmen are leaving in large numbers, wishing to spend what they consider their last days at their village homes. Factory owners have asked the police to stop this migration in order to prevent the ruin of business.

Big Contract for Cars.

Joliet, Ill., Aug. 24.—Contracts amounting to $2,000,000 and calling for 2,500 steel gondola cars have been received by the Fox Pressed Steel company. The working force has been doubled and the plant will soon be running at its fullest capacity, the first time in several years. The gondola cars are for the Erie, Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg, Western New York and Pennsylvania and Ohio railroads.

Chamberlain Has Answer.

London, Aug. 23.—The secretary of state for the colonies, Joseph Chamberlain, has received the text of the Transvaal's reply to the proposals of the British government and now has them under consideration. The members of the cabinet are within reach, but until the government has determined upon what course to pursue Mr. Chamberlain is unwilling to divulge the contents of the message from South Africa.

Strikers Will Run Busses.

Cleveland, Aug. 24.—Twenty heretics, used for many years in the streets of Washington, were shipped from that city to street car strikers here last night. On their arrival here a regular bus line will be established in Euclid avenue in opposition to the Big Consolidated company. This will be the first attempt by the strikers to run busses on the Euclid line.

Insurance Company Fails.

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 24.—The Iowa Mutual Fire association has failed, State Auditor Merriam revoking its authority to do business. Application will be made for the appointment of a receiver. The company was strictly a mutual assessment concern, with about $2,000,000 of risks in force. The failure was caused by too high expenses.

Doctors Get First Chance.

In France, if a person dies leaving insufficient money to pay his debts, the doctor's bill is settled first, and then the rest of the deceased's liabilities are dealt with.

New City Rising from the Ashes of the Burned District.

Victor, Colo., Aug. 24.—Tremendous activity prevails here in preparation for rebuilding the burned district with steel, stone and brick structures. The price for lots has advanced.

Committees have been organized to conduct relief work. Much assistance has been received and large quantities of supplies are on hand, but more will be needed and help will be gladly received from any quarter.

Fifteen hundred people were rendered homeless by the fire and lost everything they had. The sale of liquor within the city limits has been absolutely prohibited.

Permits for the erection of temporary buildings, good for ninety days, are being issued.

Laurier Going to England.

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 24.—In an interview at Charlottetown, Lewis H. Davies, minister of marine and fisheries in the Canadian government and a member of the joint high commission, announced that he and Sir Wilfrid Laurier will leave Canada for England in a few weeks. It is believed that their mission will be to discuss the Alaskan boundary question and other matters at issue before the commission with the British foreign office, to facilitate an amicable settlement of the whole matter. It is probable that Premier Laurier and his colleague are going at the request of Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies.

Cartridges for South Africa.

Birmingham, England, Aug. 24.—A firm of this place has received an order for 14,000,000 Mauser cartridges for urgent delivery to South Africa. Secrecy is being observed as to the exact destination of the cartridges, but it is said that the Boers alone use Mauser rifles in that territory.

Kentucky Populists Active.

St. Winifred's Well to Be Protected.

Mr. Justice Byrne has thrown the protecting curtain over the High Court of Justice over St. Winifred's Well, in England, and declines to allow the water of the famous fountain—which is supposed to be endowed with miraculous powers quite as wonderful as any in the Grotto of Lourdes—to be bottled and ticketed for home and foreign consumption, like soda water or lemonade. The High Court of Justice did not exhibit the bottling of Winifred's mixture out of any churlish desire to keep her benefactions for the select few, but simply because the riparian owners of the stream fed from the spring object to be deprived of their quantum of water to enrich the local board, who wished to sell it for their own pecuniary profit. These owners had enjoyed the rivulet from time immemorial, and preferred its contents to a collection of useless surgical appliances. His lordship held that, although the board were the custodians of the well, they had no right to carry off its miraculous waters, which must remain in situ. Those who wish cures must get them on the spot. An injunction preventing any interference with Winifred was accordingly granted.

Burying John Brown's Followers.

Plattsburg, N. Y., Aug. 24.—The date has finally been set for the reburial of the bodies of the followers of John Brown who met death with the intrepid leader at Harper's Ferry, Va., in 1859. The ceremony will take place Aug. 28 at 2 p. m., at North Elba.

Two Deaths from Plague.

FATAL CONFLICT IN CUBA.

Rural Guards Fire into a Crowd of Ex-Soldiers.

FIVE KILLED, TEN WOUNDED.

Difficulty Arises Over a Rumor That the United States Would Grant Certain Claims—Authorities Expect No Further Disturbances.

Santiago de Cuba, Aug. 24.—The rural guard and a number of Cuban soldiers had a conflict Tuesday night at Cuevitas, a small town near Santiago, in which five were killed and ten wounded.

The difficulty was the result of a rumor that the American authorities would reject all applications for a share in the $3,000,000 that had not been filed before the payment at Guantanamo last month. Two Cuban generals, Bandera and Vegas, attempted to pacify the crowd of nearly 5,000 men waiting to be paid.

Capt. Ballal of the rural guard, in an endeavor to maintain order among the volatile protesters, precipitated a fight and was shot in the arm. The shot was immediately followed by a volley by the Cubans. The rural guard returned their fire and a large number of citizens of Cuevitas, who surrounded the pay station, fell over one another in a panic.

About seventy shots were exchanged, and five Cubans are dead as the result. Gen. Castillo, arriving, succeeded in convincing the Cuban soldiers of their error, and the wounded, numbering ten, were taken, by Gen. Wood's order, to the civil hospital.

No further disturbances are expected.

Sympathetic Lakes.

The Wettersee, in Sweden, like so many other lakes, has long enjoyed the local reputation of a bottomless pit. The Swedish scientists have now destroyed the venerable legend, for in the measurements taken a few days ago they have demonstrated that the greatest depth of the lake is only 119 meters. There still remains, however, a series of mysteries which science must be content to leave unsolved for a time. There is quasi-scientific ground for the queer supposition that living creatures, animal and vegetable, can and do make journeys to and fro between the high northern lake of Wettersee and the South German lake of Constance. This conclusion has been justified by the appearance of exactly the same fauna and flora in the Swedish and Swabian inland seas. It is even asserted that when there is a storm on the Lake of Constance the Lake of Wettersee begins sympathetically to roll and swell, and vice versa.

A Difficult Combination.

"This here li yamen tsung is always getting into trouble," said the man with the goatee, who had been reading cable dispatches from China. "Yop mean the yung tsai lamen, don't you?" gently corrected the man with the sideboards. "No, he doesn't," put in the man with the popliteal whiskers; "he means the yam tsung lamen. Everybody is likely to get that conglomerate of Chinese words wrong, but I've made a special study of it and I know." "You know, do you?" added the young fellow with the Mephistophelean chin adorning. "Yes, I do." "Well, you don't. It's the tsung lam yimen. I guess I know, for I noticed it in this paper yesterday and charged my memory with it." And then the discussion began all over again.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

The Biggest Plow.

The ordinary farmer would hardly recognize as a plow a giant machine now in use in Kern county, California. This is without doubt the biggest plow in the world. It cuts a furrow four feet wide, and was originally built for the purpose of making irrigation canals. Even for this huge undertaking it was found too unwieldy. To start the plow in motion eighty teams of oxen are required. So the farmers of Kern county manage to do their work without the aid of the prize plow and keep it on view merely to show what western enterprise can accomplish.

First Butter-Makers.

It is said the Arabs first made butter. They were carrying milk in skins on the backs of camels and the steady jogging churned the fluid into butter.

Carter to Go Free.

New York, Aug. 24.—A special to the Journal from Washington says Capt. Carter is to go free. He will be dismissed from the army and may be fined $10,000, but he will not be imprisoned, and his offense will not be published in the newspapers of his home.

Women's Rights in Germany.

Notwithstanding the settled tradition of the "hausfrau," Germany bids fair to be the field on which the great battle of women's rights will be fought out to its bitter end, says the London Chronicle. The League of Women's Associations is growing day by day more powerful, and the influence of its 24,000 members makes itself felt even in the reichstag. In Bavaria, Wurtemberg, Hesse and Saxony the appointment of female sanitary inspectors has been secured and this is pretty certain to be followed by like success in Prussia, where the state orphanages of Berlin are henceforth to have a certain proportion of women on the official staff.

Yaqui Uprising Is Quelled.

City of Mexico, Aug. 24.—The minister of war says Gen. Torres, commanding the federal forces near Torin, has the Yaqui situation well in hand. They have escaped to the mountains, and guerrilla troops have been organized to follow them.

DEFRAUDED.

By a New Plan of Bank Swindling By Duplicate Draft.

Boston Special Chicago Tribune: A new scheme to defraud the banking houses of this community has been discovered through the officials of the Massachusetts National bank. The officials are assisting the police in this country and those of the Scotland Yard force in unraveling the matter. The manner in which it is worked is as follows: A man enters a bank and purchases a draft, at the same time telling the cashier that he is going abroad and would like to have a duplicate drawn. He takes both of the drafts away, and the original is either taken or sent to Europe by the swindler. Some bank in London cashes the original draft, and the duplicate is cashed on the continent by some unsuspecting person. In this way the swindlers double their money. Paper issued by the Massachusetts National bank was used by one of the swindlers to secure $2,000 from a bank in Switzerland. The man who had the transaction with the local bank told the cashier that he was going abroad and that he would like to have the drafts in two parts. He purchased two drafts of $1,000 each. These were drawn on a London bank. Recently word was received from London that one of the drafts marked duplicate had been cashed there. A few days ago a letter was received from a banking house in Switzerland, stating that it had cashed the original draft for the party to whom Miller had indorsed it. The cashier of the Massachusetts National bank wrote to a banking house in Troy, N. Y., and asked that institution to look up a man giving the name of J. P. Miller, who had bought the draft in March. The banking house replied that it found three people of that name, all reputable business men. No one of the three answered the description of the Miller who bought the drafts. The Switzerland bank will be the loser in this case, as the person who cashed the draft should have demanded the duplicate as well as the original before cashing it.

An Interesting Discovery.

An interesting discovery has rewarded the researches of officials at Hampton Court palace, London. There has always lurked a suspicion that the walls of the famous Queen Anne's drawing room, which is in the center of the east wing of Wren's famous building, contained more than the second rate portraits of the Georges. Never however, was it supposed that an important work by that once famous decorative artist, Verrio, had been concealed from the public eye since 1735, owing to a stupendous act of vandalism, which, it is presumed, was carried out by Queen Caroline in 1735, probably to prevent the apotheosis of Queen Anne from meeting her eyes in her drawing room when she became queen. The date is known by the extraordinary act of the paper hanger of that time, who, in covering up Verrio's work, scratched on his name and the date of the paper hanging. In taking down some of the portraits of the Georges, which were intended for Kensington palace, it was noticed by an official that the top right hand corner closed to the ceiling seemed abruptly cut off from the general scheme of the beautiful ceiling, which everyone had seen and admired, and which represented Queen Anne in the chariot of Justice, dressed in purple lined with ermine. Over her head is a crown, held by Neptune and Britannia, while surrounding and floating in the clouds are various allegorical figures representing Peace and Plenty, etc. The discovery now made shows that the whole of the walls were originally painted by Verrio in the same manner, the subject being Queen Anne's apotheosis as Queen of the Sea in the four great quarters of the globe.

Heir to $500,000.

Robert E. M. Cooper, formerly a prominent newspaper man and politician, has fallen heir to $500,000. The estate was left to Cooper by John C. Grego, a miser hermit, who recently died at Cripple Creek. Years ago Grego lived in the Panhandle country of Texas. Cooper made a tour of that region. Grego was not inclined to make acquaintances, but Cooper found him about to drown in a river and risked his own life to save the miser. That resulted in a friendship. Cooper returned to Springfield, Mo., and became prominent. He kept up a correspondence with Grego for some years but they finally lost track of each other. Grego left Texas and was a pioneer prospector at Cripple Creek. He cleaned up $500,000 and quit. Thereafter he lived in absolute seclusion. So far as he knew Cooper was still in Springfield, and a few days before he died he sent for Justice Martin, and a will was drawn up leaving everything to Cooper.

Fire Department Chaplains.

The New York fire department is to be equipped with chaplains, just the same as a regiment of soldiers. The officials consider that it is as necessary to have chaplains at fires as it is to have them accompany troops to the firing line in time of battle. Loss of life at fires is sometimes very heavy, as was recently shown here. There should always be some one present to administer spiritual consolation. Fire Commissioner Scannell has appointed two chaplains for the department. They will hold the rank of chief of battalion, and will perform the same duties as chaplains in the army, in all cases accompanying their battalions into action. The only distinction between army chaplains and fire chaplains is that the latter will receive no compensation for their services.—New York Correspondence Pittsburgh Dispatch.
